

Recycled roofing tiles get a second life as stunning wall tiles with the Parkway collection

April 30, 2018

MINNEAPOLIS, April 30, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- The Parkway collection, made of recycled roofing tiles, joins hundreds of other new and unique tiles being introduced this season at The Tile Shop (NASDAQ:TTS), a specialty retailer of natural stone and man-made tiles.

Recycled roofing tiles create modern drama. Visit www.tileshop.com or call Customer Service at (888) 398-6595 for more.

The two tiles in the Parkway collection, a chevron mosaic tile and a subway tile, are made of authentic recycled clay roofing tiles. The steel-grey, blue and sandy-brown tones visible in these tiles create an entirely original look that is a blend of cool and warm colors on the walls of the home. As more and more tiles function as works of art, the Parkway series, from The Tile Shop's proprietary brand Fired Earth Ceramics, is one of the most interesting and stunning tiles to serve this purpose.

The Parkway collection is another addition to the assortment of unique tiles that satisfy consumer demand for original and hard-to-find tiles. "A lot of people these days say they want products that are different and have a unique story," said Kevin McDaniel, vice president of merchandising at The Tile Shop. "With the Parkway collection, each tile is original and one of a kind."

This collection is one of dozens of new and unique products being released this month and represent part of a commitment by The Tile Shop to offer the leading assortment in the industry.
